"We'll bend it for you!"The most important concern of our company is to help customers individually and professionally. Our business is our profession and our passion.We would be delighted to welcome you to our satisfied customers. We are available for your requests every day, monday to friday from 08.00 a.m

Customer satisfaction is our ultimate goal.Our customers value the quality of all our products and services. We are known for our extensive know-how, as well as for our capacity and flexibility in the production of stainless elbows. Whether standard part or custom-made: We always produce first-class quality with an excellent price-performance ratio. And we offer a customer Service which not only meets your expectations, but surpasses them. Inquiries will be answered immediately, deliveries are on schedule and reliable.

We already think about the future today.With tireless dedication, we have created a good name for ourselves as Rohrbogen AG in more than 80 years. We invest considerable amounts into the training of our employees; as well in the maintenance and expansion of our infrastructure in the development and improvement of our infrastructure production technology. As a result, we will continue to be synonymous with top-quality stainless elbows.
